This September the world’s top teams and riders will be racing along roads near you in the OVO Energy Tour of Britain. Come and watch along Stage Seven in Warwickshire, which features an exciting uphill finish.

The OVO Energy Tour of Britain, the nation’s biggest and most prestigious professional bike race, will be showcasing 120 of the world’s best cyclists across eight challenging stages, and best of all it is FREE to attend.

After the success of the OVO Energy Women’s Tour in June, Warwickshire now welcomes the world’s top men’s cyclists, for what is once again a spectator-friendly stage where you can catch the action in several locations.

Starting in Warwick, the world’s top riders will pass through the University of Warwick, Kenilworth, Meriden (home to the National Cyclists’ Memorial), Fillongley, Atherstone, Mancetter, Bedworth, Bulkington, Brinklow, Dunchurch and Wellesbourne. Action is guaranteed on the climb of Sun Rising Hill, with the stage ending with three ascents of the Burton Dassett climb as part of a 12-kilometre finishing circuit giving you multiple chances to see the battle for victory.

Find out where you can get a road-side view for Stage Seven on Friday 13 September, and when the riders will be passing here: tourofbritain.co.uk/stages/stage-seven
