OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION 3

Coastal Men's Single Scull

Withdrawal of CAN09 from Heat 1 of CM1x

Due to an error in their entries, a rower has been entered in two events that, due to the draw, the heats are back to back. To withdraw from an event after the draw is only allowed for medical reasons. However, it is clear that this rower cannot race these two events, one after the other, and by forcing him to go to the start for the CM1x in order to comply with the rule then return immediately to join the double scull would be potentially dangerous.

Therefore, the FISA Executive Committee has decided to allow him to withdraw from the CM1x with a strong reprimand.

Rowers are reminded that doubling up is nearly impossible at the World Rowing Coastal Championships due to the draw for the timing of the heats being uncertain.
