„BUILDING UP THE NEXT GENERATION –
APPLIED ASPECTS OF COACHING IN YOUNG TALENTED ROWERS.“

SEE YOU IN HAMBURG

Welcome to
FISA Youth Coaches
Conference 2013

WELCOME TO HAMBURG

„BUILDING UP THE NEXT GENERATION...“

Dear Guests

The city of Hamburg is situated at the junction of the rivers Elbe and Alster and is, with its population of 1.8 million, the living capital of Northern Germany. The large harbour is a hub of trade and industry. Hamburg is also one of the main centres of media, science and culture in Germany.

There are many good reasons why Hamburg will be host to the World Rowing Juniors Championships in August 2014.

The city was the founding place of rowing in continental Europe in 1836 and rowing has developed to be one of the leading sports in Hamburg ever since. Today, more than 5,600 rowers are active members of 20 clubs in the city. It is therefore not surprising that Hamburg is home to one of the most successful training centres in Germany, especially for the young generation. Furthermore, the regatta course in Hamburg-Allermöhe meets the highest FISA standards, well demonstrated during the World Cup regatta in 2011.

A warm welcome to the FISA Youth Coaches Conference in Hamburg!
